

Benefit Concert Is Ready For Public Shamrocks to Be Showered on Audience

Child who will appear tonight at the Salt Lake theater in the benefit for the Kearns-St. Ann's orphanage.

Mr. and Mrs. James J. Corbett Will Occupy Stall at Entertainment.

THERE will be stars on both sides of the footlights at the Salt Lake theater tonight when the annual St. Patrick's day concert for the benefit of the Kearns-St. Ann's orphanage is presented at the Salt Lake theater. Mr. and Mrs. James J. Corbett, the former no other than the famous former world's champion boxer, were among the first to take a stall for the performance. Their presence promises to create no little interest in the audience. "Gentleman Jim's" Irish patriotism and his whole-hearted charity were quickly evident when he heard of the benefit for the little orphans and he was quick to order a stall for the entertainment.

On the stage there will be plenty of stars, young and old. Besides Mrs. Edward McGarrin, harpist, Miss Pluma Purcell, reader, and P. P. Grady, baritone, more than 500 children will be present. They have all been trained perfectly and Chaucer O'Leary, the noted Irish singer who held the boards at the Salt Lake theater early in the week, remarked after witnessing a rehearsal, that it was one of the best amateur entertainments he had ever seen.

Little Miss Lillie Dunn of Dublin, who recently came to St. Ann's of the Emerald Isle, will undoubtedly be one of the glowing "lites" of the evening. The bright little girl will sing an Irish song and at its conclusion she will shower the audience with real shamrocks that have been sent all the way from Ireland for the occasion.

Owing to the participation of so many children the curtain will rise at 8 o'clock at the Salt Lake theater, so that the entertainment may be over at an early hour. Indications are that before the day is over the "S. R. O." sign will be out at the Salt Lake office.

The committee will meet again next Tuesday at 2 p. m. Lactations have been extended to Frank Mc Driggs, superintendent of the school for the deaf and blind at Ogden, and to George W. Brimhall, president of the R. Y. university at Provo, to meet with the executive committee at that time to consider co-operation of the three principal towns in the state in providing necessary entertainment and accommodations for the thousands of school teachers who will be here.

Efforts will doubtless be made by the Utah State Fair association to hold a fair this year, although members of the board have stated that it will be impossible to hold a fair this year because of the lack of funds. The decision on the matter will soon be made by the new board of directors of the association, which will meet for organization next week.

President J. G. McDonald, T. F. Thomas and William C. Winder of the state fair board said last night that while they hoped that the board would be able to see its way clear to have a fair in 1913 and also one in 1914, there was considerable question about it, and no decision had yet been reached. Mr. McDonald said that members of the joint appropriation committee had given it as their opinion that only one fair could be held. He said that no one had been authorized to state that a fair would be held.

Members of the fair board asked the legislature for an appropriation of $50,000 for premiums and maintenance and $50,000 for a new livestock collection. The committee on appropriations felt that they would have to reduce the bill as much as possible and asked President McDonald if the board would be satisfied with only one fair in the next two years if the appropriation for the collection was made. Mr. McDonald agreed to this arrangement and accordingly the maintenance was cut to $25,000 and it is feared that this amount will cover only one fair.

PUBLICITY CAMPAIGN TO INCREASE CROWDS

N. E. A. Committee Will Try to Offset Expected Effect of Railroad Rates.

In an effort to overcome the handicap in the attendance at the N. E. A. convention in Salt Lake next summer, which, it is feared, will result from the failure of the railroads to grant special convention rates, the local executive committee decided yesterday to launch a nation-wide publicity campaign immediately.

The committee met in the office of Superintendent D. H. Christensen, who, as chairman, recounted his relations with the national executive committee, which he met with during his recent trip to Philadelphia. He explained that because of the stand taken by the railroads, a sentiment was prevalent throughout the far eastern states against the Salt Lake convention and a decided falling off in the usual attendance was to be expected unless vigorous action was taken to offset the ill effect of the railroads' attitude.

A publicity committee will be appointed immediately and letters, advertising to every hotel and every of the land that Salt Lake City is the finest convention city in the country will be dispatched. Thousands of booklets and circulars are to be sent out as well.

Tentative excursion plans were considered by the local committee. It is proposed to run special trains to surrounding points of interest, such as Bingham Canyon, Ogden canyon and Provo canyon, during the convention week. The committee also outlined the work for the various subcommittees which are now in process of formation. It is hoped that within the next few days general plans for the convention will be well launched and under way.

A proposed feature of the convention week will be a great musical concert in which hundreds of local school children will take part.

The committee will meet again next Tuesday at 2 p. m. Lactations have been extended to Frank Mc Driggs, superintendent of the school for the deaf and blind at Ogden, and to George W. Brimhall, president of the R. Y. university at Provo, to meet with the executive committee at that time to consider co-operation of the three principal towns in the state in providing necessary entertainment and accommodations for the thousands of school teachers who will be here.

CLUBS TO CO-OPERATE ON CITY BEAUTIFUL

Would Devote Week to Preparing Salt Lake for Conventions.

If the efforts of the Association of City Clubs succeed, that organization and the Commercial club will co-operate closely and work together with the city commissioners in an energetic "city beautiful" campaign during one entire week or more of the early spring. The object of the move is manifold, but aside from the motive of sanitary improvements, it is primarily to have Salt Lake appear at its best at the time of the annual convention of the National Education association here next July, when thousands of delegates from the four corners of the country will be guests in the city.

Through its secretary the Association of City Clubs yesterday presented a petition to the board of governors of the Commercial club, asking the club's co-operation in working with the city commissioners for a general spring cleanup. The communication, signed by Mrs. G. B. Blakeley, gives high praise to The Tribune as being the only paper in the city that has evidenced its support to the "city beautiful" project in a substantial manner.

The plan is to bring about a general removal of all rubbish from all premises in the city, a tearing-down of old, dilapidated fences, the improvement of gardens, lawns and property, the gardening of vacant lots and last but not least, thorough "house cleanings." The club women also plan to have those city ordinances that make for a cleaner city more strictly enforced.

Yesterday a petition also was sent to the city commissioners asking their assistance in the campaign. They were requested to designate some week during the spring as "cleanup week" and to have all city teams during that period put to work hauling away rubbish, garbage and refuse collected by residents.

It is understood that the proposition is viewed most favorably by both the Commercial club and the city commissioners, who will take proper steps to work in its interest. The club already, through its publicity bureau, has launched a "city beautiful" campaign. Last year prizes amounting to $500 or more were awarded a number whose premises were put into the most attractive shape.

The project planned by the club women is the most comprehensive of its kind launched here. Preliminary preparations will be outlined at a meeting to be held at the Commercial club Monday afternoon. With the co-operation of the two club organizations and the city commissioners, and a combination of the work of the Commercial club and also that being directed by Professor Abbey of the state university with all other similar moves into one big "city beautiful" campaign, it is thought that an important step forward will be taken by the city.

Efforts will doubtless be made by the Utah State Fair association to hold a fair this year, although members of the board have stated that it will be impossible to hold a fair this year because of the lack of funds. The decision on the matter will soon be made by the new board of directors of the association, which will meet for organization next week.

PARIS TOO FAR GONE TO BE BENEFITED

Friedmann Unable to Earn $1,000,000 by Curing Son-in-Law of Banker.

MAY PATENT THE SERUM Encouraging Reports From Patients Treated and Criticism by Physician.

By International News Service. NEW YORK, March 14.—According to a dispatch tonight from Saranac Lake, the condition of Rex Lee Paris, son-in-law of Charles E. Finlay, president of the Aetna National bank, has become critical. Young Paris is a sufferer from pulmonary tuberculosis. He has been nursed for months by his beautiful young wife, who was Miss Neva Estelle Finlay, at a hospital in Saranac Lake. Mr. Paris eagerly awaited the coming of Dr. Friedmann, who was offered $1,000,000 by Mr. Finlay if his turtle germ vaccine should prove efficacious. Now it is said that not even Dr. Friedmann can save the young man.

In this city tonight Dr. A. C. H. Friedmann, brother of the bacteriologist, said that no arrangements have been made, as far as he knows, to treat young Mr. Paris. "My brother will return tomorrow, and then he will announce his plans," said Dr. Friedmann. Following the publication today of the statement that Dr. Friedmann applied to the United States government for patent for his "cure" last July, it was learned today that the physician plans a world-wide patent. Dr. A. C. H. Friedmann admitted tonight that his brother has applied for a patent in Germany.

"My brother intends to protect himself," said Arthur Friedmann. "Does he wish a world-wide patent in order to enjoy all the financial fruits of his discovery himself?" was asked. "That is something that will have to be discussed at some future time," was the noncommittal reply.

Many Patients Waiting. Dr. Friedmann has treated 110 patients so far. Upon his return from Canada, he will have patients waiting for him at Bellevue, Mount Sinai and the hospital for deformities and joint diseases. Dr. Friedmann may treat 150 cases of Bellevue pulmonary patients. This test will be under the supervision of Director John F. Anderson of the government hygiene service at Washington and Dr. Arthur W. Stimson of the same service.

Encouraging reports continued to come today from patients treated by Dr. Friedmann. One patient declared he felt like a new man. Dr. A. C. H. Friedmann very frankly pointed out that the situation of the patients after taking the treatment might be held responsible for much of the apparent improvement.

From Pittsburgh this evening came a wire to the effect that David S. McCarty, one of the first Americans to be treated by Dr. Friedmann, had been practically cured.

Criticized by Physician. The other side of the picture was presented by Dr. Albert P. Francine, chief of the state tuberculosis dispensary of Pennsylvania, who came to New York to study the situation. Dr. Francine issued a statement today in Philadelphia declaring that Dr. Friedmann's claims for his "cure" have been greatly exaggerated and his only object in exploiting the "cure" in this country has been to make money.

"Dr. Friedmann expected to begin the treatment of private patients at once, 'the next morning,' as it was explained to me," says Dr. Francine. "He has no doubt been badly advised and is in ignorance of the laws governing the practice of medicine and the sale of unknown remedies in this country. He wanted to rent a handsome apartment set of apartments conveniently situated and treat private patients."

Instead of running around the country beginning treatment of cases he cannot possibly continue, let him settle down and treat the cases regularly."

DR. HARRY F. WARD TO LECTURE IN CITY The coming to Salt Lake today of the Rev. Harry F. Ward, D. D., social secretary of the Methodist Episcopal church, is being looked forward to with more than ordinary interest by both the Christians and the labor union of the city. The Federated Trades union of the city was visited last Monday night by Judge George F. Goodwin, who presented the matter of Dr. Ward's coming here and extended an invitation to the various branches of the labor union to attend the meeting that will be held here Sunday at the First Methodist Episcopal church. The evening service was especially emphasized as being devoted to the problems of the social service and the Federated Trades union voted unanimously to accept the invitation to attend the Sunday evening service for the purpose of hearing Mr. Ward speak.

Dr. Ward is to lecture on the following would be the plan of the services for Sunday, unless Dr. Ward shall suggest some change after his arrival this morning. Dr. Ward will preach at the Methodist church Sunday morning at 10:45. In the afternoon at 2:30 he will deliver an address and conduct a round-table hour. The afternoon service is being arranged so as to give those who cannot attend the morning or evening service an opportunity to hear the visitor. The evening service will be attended by the labor organizations and Dr. Ward will deliver his great address on the social service work of the Methodist Episcopal church.

JULIAN HAWTHORNE MUST GO TO PRISON

Author Found Guilty, With Freeman and Morton, of Using Mails to Defraud.

NEW YORK, March 14.—The Hawthorne mining trial, which has dragged along nearly four months before a jury in the federal court here, came to a conclusion today with the conviction of three of the defendants, Julian Hawthorne, Dr. William J. Morton and Albert Freeman, and the acquittal of Josiah Quincy, twice mayor of Boston and assistant secretary of state during the Cleveland administration.

Hawthorne, Morton and Freeman were found guilty of making fraudulent use of the mails in selling stock in Canadian mining claims. Quincy, exonerated by United States Judge Mayer on all counts of five indictments, before the case reached the jury, was held not guilty on the one remaining indictment of conspiracy in allowing his name to be used in promoting the stock. The jury was out twenty-seven hours.

Judge Mayer paroled Quincy until next October, when he is directed to appear in answer to two indictments still pending against him.

Freeman, a New York business man for twenty-six years, was sentenced to five years in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta. Hawthorne, son of Nathaniel Hawthorne, the novelist, and himself an author, and Dr. William J. Morton, son of Dr. W. T. G. Morton, the first user of ether in surgical operations, each were sentenced to one year and one day at Atlanta. Freeman's prison term is to date from the first of the present year and the terms of Hawthorne and Morton from November 25, the day the trial was begun.

Of the twenty-seven counts against the three men found guilty, Freeman was acquitted of four and Hawthorne and Morton of seven each. Judge Mayer granted a ten-day stay to allow an appeal.

Today Mr. Adams and local growers, including the state horticultural commission, will go to Ogden, where the biggest institute thus far will be held. Institutes will be held in Salt Lake City, at Murray, 2 p. m.; Monday, March 24, at Draper, 10 a. m.; at Sandy, 2 p. m.; at Riverton, 7:30 p. m.

RESINOL CURED AWFUL ERUPTION

Her Face So Red And Itchy She Could Not Stand It.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 22, 1912. "I suffered awfully with skin trouble of the worst kind for about three months. My face was so red and itchy that it was impossible to stand it any longer. I wasn't able to even rest at night; it used to get me so nervous that I wasn't able to speak to anybody. I tried several other remedies in vain, until I noticed the advertisement of Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment. I sent for samples and they helped me wonderfully. I noticed a change right away. I used Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment for about three months, and then I was cured completely." (Signed) Miss A. Saltzman, 1142 N. Jefferson Ave. For eighteen years Resinol has been a favorite doctor's prescription and household remedy for itching troubles, skin eruptions, pimples, blackheads, dandruff, sores, piles, etc. in the district court yesterday by H. J. Dinny, city attorney.

The Larsons sued for an injunction compelling the city to issue to them a rooming house license. They alleged that they were maintaining a respectable rooming house, charged that the police had conspired to drive them out of business, that the city commissioners had acted without authority in denying the license, and challenged the ordinance under which the city controls rooming houses.

General denial of all allegations in the complaint was entered by the city and the plaintiffs are accused of constant violations of the law. Numerous instances of women of the underworld being taken from the city streets and placed in the instance of liquor being sold unlawfully at the hotel. The city asks that the complaint be dismissed, with costs to the plaintiffs.

This answer presents the ground on which the city will fight all the numerous suits filed against it by proprietors of condemned rooming houses. The Larsons case will be made the vehicle for fighting out the issue raised in each complaint, continuing in the other cases having been ordered by the district court until after the Larsons case is settled.

FRUITGROWERS HOLD MEETING AT CLUB An educational fruitgrowers' meeting was held at the Commercial club last night under the auspices of the newly organized Utah Fruitgrowers association, which is now conducting a series of successful institutes in fruitgrowing counties.

The feature of last night's gathering was an address on "The Advantages of the Nonprofit Co-operative Method of Marketing Fruit Products," by Charles D. Adams, expert grower and organizer of Upland, Cal., who has been employed by the Utah organization in its educational campaign in the interest of the new association.

Yesterday afternoon an enthusiastic institute was held at a hearing, where the sentiment was unanimous in favor of the association plan of marketing. Equally successful institutes were held at preceding day at Pleasant Grove and other Utah county towns.

Today Mr. Adams and local growers, including the state horticultural commission, will go to Ogden, where the biggest institute thus far will be held. Institutes will be held in Salt Lake City, at Murray, 2 p. m.; Monday, March 24, at Draper, 10 a. m.; at Sandy, 2 p. m.; at Riverton, 7:30 p. m.
